

BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

FROM: YOU CAT

Youth Catechism of the Catholic Church The Ten Commandments

“You Shall Love Your Neighbour as Yourself”

The Fourth Commandment: Honour your father and your mother.

372. How do parents respect their children?

God entrusted children to parents so that they might be steady, righteous examples for those children, that they might love and respect them and do everything possible so that their children can develop physically and spiritually. [2221-2231]

Children are gifts from God and not the property of the parents. Before they are their parents’ children, they are God’s children. The primary duty of parents is to present to their children the Good news and to communicate the Christian faith to them. 374

373. How should a family live its faith together?

A Christian family should be a miniature church. All Christian family members are invited to strengthen one another in faith and to outdo one another in their zeal for God. They should pray for and with each other and collaborate in works of charity. [2226-2227]

Parents stand in for their children with their own faith, have them baptized, and serve as their models of faith. That means that parents should make it possible for their children to experience how valuable and beneficial it is to live in the familiar presence of the loving God. At some time, however, the parents, too will learn from their children’s faith and hear how God speaks through them, because the faith of young people is often accompanied by greater devotion and generosity and “because the Lord often reveals to a younger person what is better” (St. Benedict of Nursia, Rule, chap.3, 3).

374. Why is God more important than the family?

Without relationship a person cannot live. Man’s most important relationship is the one he has with God. This has priority over all human relationships, even family relationships. [2232 - 2233]

Children do not belong to the parents, nor do parents belong to their children. Every person belongs directly to God. Only to God is man bound absolutely and always. This is how we understand what Jesus said to those who are called: “He who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me” (Mt 10:37). Therefore parents should place their children confidently into God’s hands if the Lord calls them to the consecrated life in a religious order or to be a Priest. 145

APOSTOLATE OF PRAYERS

Intentions for June

Universal: Immigrants and refugees - That immigrants and refugees may find welcome and respect in the countries to which they come.

Evangelization: Vocations - That the personal encounter with Jesus may arouse in many young people the desire to offer their own lives in priesthood or consecrated life.

RECEIVING HOLY COMMUNION

At the time of Holy Communion, when the person in front of you has received Holy Communion and you are in the front of the procession, you will bow your head, The Minister of Holy Communion will say “The Body of Christ”, you will reply Amen. It is important to note that the only appropriate response is Amen. The Church expects that Amen is said in a voice that can be heard by the Minister of Holy Communion. After saying Amen, you will consume the Sacred Host immediately. The Canadian Bishops have instructed that our common sign of reverence be a bow of the head..

COME & SEE WEEKEND RETREAT
