

SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT

FROM: YOU CAT

Youth Catechism of the Catholic Church The Ten Commandments

The Seventh Commandment: You shall not steal.

428. What is theft, and what falls under the Seventh Commandments?

Theft is the unlawful appropriation of goods belonging to another. [2408 - 2409]

Appropriating someone else's goods unjustly is a sin against the Seventh Commandment even if the act cannot be indicted under civil law. What is unjust in God's sight is unjust. The Seventh Commandment, of course, applies not only to stealing, but also to the unfair withholding of a just wage, the keeping of found items that one could give back, and defrauding in general. The Seventh Commandment also pertains to the following: setting employees to work in inhumane conditions, not abiding by contracts into which one has entered, wasting profits without any consideration for social obligations, artificially driving prices up or down, endangering the jobs of colleagues for whom one is responsible, bribery and corruption, misleading dependent coworkers into illegal actions, doing shoddy work or demanding inappropriate remuneration, wasting or negligently managing public property, counterfeiting or falsifying accounting records, or tax evasion.

429. What rules apply to intellectual property?

The misappropriation of intellectual property is theft also. [2408 - 2409]

Not just Plagiarism is theft. The theft of intellectual property begins with copying other students' work in school, continues in the illegal taking of materials from the Internet, applies to the making of unauthorized copies of trafficking in pirated copies in various media, and extends to business dealings in stolen concepts and ideas. Every acquisition of someone else's intellectual property demands the free consent and appropriate remuneration of the author or inventor.

'VOCATION SEEDS'

Peter, John and James had a mountaintop experience with Jesus by witnessing His transfiguration. We too can have a mountaintop experience when we open our minds and hearts to following God's Will for our lives. If we think God is calling you to be a priest, religious or deacon,

SHARELIFE

Working wonders for those entering the priesthood.....

“I am aware that what is given to me here is because of the generosity of many benefactors, including ShareLife, to whom I am very grateful. Last year, I graduated from Philosophy at St. Philip Neri Oratory with Summa Cum Laude, and this would not have been possible without the contribution of many benefactors. I am sure that whatever is given to me is for the sake of the mission that the Lord is preparing for me, and I thank ShareLife for their generous contribution to the work that God has prepared for me.” Simon Ibrahim, Redemptoris Mater seminarian.

At ShareLife-funded agencies such as Serra House, St. Augustine’s and Redemptoris Mater Seminaries, individuals undergo extensive theological education and practical field training. Through ShareLife, you are helping to sustain vocations for the priesthood and inspire discernment for God’s call. Last year ShareLife helped support 80 seminarians in their formation studies.

Sunday March 13, 2016 is ShareLife Sunday
Please give generously. You can work wonders!

MASS ETIQUETTE

How to behave during a Catholic Mass

- 4. Do not bring children’s activity bags, snack items and amusement gadgets to Church. Children will grow in virtue if their parents expected them to detach from these things for at least an hour.
- 5. Parents have a duty to give their children ongoing, on the job training, all the time. That includes the obligation to train their children in the appropriate time to kneel, sit, stand and face the altar. Parents themselves get distracted with managing the dispensing of food and toys. On top of that it is a distraction to others in the pews who are hungry themselves, or who are trying to fully participate in Mass.
- 6. If you are late for Mass, please do not walk down the aisles looking for seat until it’s appropriate. You are disrupting others.
- 7. Do not be an observer of the Mass, but a participant. Make an effort to listen, follow readings, the homily, follow along in the missalette and sing!
- 8. Do not have conversations during the Mass.
- 9. It might be useful to ask ourselves. Who am I? Why am I here? The answers: To know God, to love Him and serve Him especially at MASS!
