

EASTER SUNDAY

FROM: DOCAT

The Common Good, Personhood, Solidarity, Subsidiarity The Principles of the Church's Social Teaching

86. Why must we act according to these principles?

Being human means taking on responsibility. No human being can reasonably situate himself outside of social life. Through the commandment of love of God and love of neighbor, Christians are obliged once again morally to help others, to serve the common good, to help every individual to live a dignified, truly human life, and to protect the intrinsic rights of groups and associations.

87. What does "the common good" mean?

Vatican Council II says that the common good is "the sum of those conditions of social life which allows social groups and their individual members relatively thorough and ready access to their own fulfillment" (GS 26). The goal of the individual is to accomplish good. The goal of society is the common good. "The common good, in fact, can be understood as the social and community dimension of the moral good" (Compendium of Social Doctrine 164). The common good refers both to the good of all human beings and to the good of the whole human being. The common good requires, first, the parameters of a functioning governmental order, as it is found in a constitutional state. Then there must be concern to maintain the natural means of subsistence. Within this framework are the rights of every human being to food, shelter, health, work, and access to education. There must also be freedom of thought, assembly, and religion. Here the requirements of the common good overlap with universal human rights.

SHARELIFE

Living the Gospel by evangelizing our faith in the greater world

Gia Lao Parish resides in the mountainous Diocese of Xuan Loc in Vietnam. Its parishioners, mostly poor, work on the hillside farms. The Pastoral Mission Fund, with the support of ShareLife, provided a one-time grant so the parish could acquire resources it could not otherwise provide. These includes bibles and hymnals, along with training for 60 catechists, who lead marriage preparation and catechism classes. With your support, Gia Lao Church is bringing faith to a community in the greater world.

April 22 is the next ShareLife Sunday.

Please give generously.

Our Parish Goal: $44,000.00

Our Parish Collection to Date: $9,000.00

“This is the day the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad” - Psalm 118

The Easter season renews in us a call to love others. By caring and supporting the less fortunate of our Parish, we can be true followers of Jesus. Please continue your support to the POOR BOX and the Society.

A friendly reminder that the ‘Thunder & Lighting’ casseroles will be picked up on Friday, April 6. We wish you and your family A Blessed and Joyous Easter.

THE PASCAL MYSTERY

The most important Liturgy in the world was the Pascal Liturgy that Jesus celebrated with his disciples in the Upper Room on the night before his death. The disciples thought that Jesus would be commemorating the liberation of Israel from Egypt. Instead, Jesus celebrated the liberation of all mankind from the power of death. Back in Egypt it was the “blood of the lamb” that preserved the Israelites from the angel of death. Now he himself would be the Lamb whose blood saves mankind from death. For Jesus’ death and Resurrection is the proof that someone can die and nevertheless gain life. This is the genuine substance of every Christian liturgy. Jesus himself compared his death and Resurrection with Israel’s liberation from slavery in Egypt. Therefore, the redemptive effect of Jesus’ death and Resurrection is called the Pascal Mystery. There is an analogy between the life-saving blood of the Lamb at the Exodus of the Israelites from Egypt (Ex 12) and Jesus, the true Pascal Lamb that has redeemed mankind from bondage of death and sin.
