MASS INTENTIONS

The Common Good, Personhood, Solidarity, Subsidiarity The Principles of the Church's Social Teaching

108. What is justice?

Justice is the constant will "to give their due to God and neighbor" (CCC 1807).

109. What sorts of justice are there?

Distributive justice is a relationship of a community to its members. It allots a fair share to each person or group. Legal justice is a relationship of the members to a community. It requires each member of a community to contribute his proper share. Commutative justice is a relationship between equals: someone who sells goods should receive a suitable price for them. It guides the distribution of goods through the world market. Together they make up social justice. Striving for social justice is an important extension of legal justice. While the latter is concerned with obeying the law and functioning government of laws, social justice brings in the overall social question. The goods of the earth must be apportioned justly. And unjust differences between individuals must be balanced out. Moreover, the dignity of the human person must be respected. Especially in economic matters, person must not be reduced to their utility and their property. Policies that serve the cause of peace must bring about justice in the comprehensive sense, precisely when it is a question of the just distribution of goods (GS 29). The distribution of goods through the world market must be guided by so-called commutative justice: someone who sells goods should receive a suitable price for them.

SHARELIFE

Living the Gospel by helping youth rebuild their lives

Sarah couldn't get along with her mother, so she tried living on the street at age 14. She hitchhiked to Toronto to move in with her cousin, who soon kicked her out. Having no place to go, Sarah decided to try Santa Maria House. She initially hated the structure and rules. However, the supportive staff won her trust and helped her return to school. At the end of her stay, she restored her relationship with her mother. ShareLife-funded agencies like Santa Maria House are helping at-risk youth turn their lives around.

Please make a sacrificial gift to ShareLife through your parish or sharelife.org

“Mary’s great faith, the power of her prayer, and her cooperation in the saving mission of her Son invite Christians in every age to trust the Lord fully and to submit obediently to His will, with confidence that His words will be fulfilled.” (St. John Paul II - Words to Live By)

Encouraged by the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the Immaculate Heart of Mary, we persevere in sharing and caring for our neighbours-in-need, by our actions and contributing to the POOR BOX after Mass. May God bless us in our endeavours.

A reminder again of Bundle-Up Weekend - June 16/17 when the SVP container will be in the parking lot. Donations can include textiles, clothing, towels and household linens. Please NO electronic appliances, dishes, furniture, cribs, strollers, books and mattresses.

MARYGROVE CAMP

Today, a second collection will be taken up after Holy Communion for the Marygrove Camp . 1,100 girls from less-fortunate families will be attending camp this year. Please remember to support this important work of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. Each and every child’s camping experience is fully subsidized through this collection - thank you for your support!

RECEIVING HOLY COMMUNION

At the time of Holy Communion, when the person in front of you has received Holy Communion and you are in the front of the procession, you will bow your head, the Minister of Holy Communion will say “The Body of Christ”, you will reply Amen. It is important to note that the only appropriate response is Amen. The Church expects that Amen is said in a voice that can be heard by the Minister of Holy Communion. After saying Amen, you will consume the Sacred Host immediately. The Canadian Bishops have instructed that our common sign of reverence be a bow of the head.
